

Guidelines Regarding Eligibility to be a Principal Investigator (PI) at the University of Toronto

April 18, 2024

My Research Applications and Agreements (MRA) is an automated system for internal review and endorsement of research funding applications and requests for non-funded research agreements, such as Material Transfer Agreements (MTA) and Non-Disclosure Agreements (NDA). Applications are submitted on-line and flow through a defined electronic review and approval process.

Applicants are encouraged to login to the MRA system well in advance of the application submission deadline to ensure that there are no problems with access or login credentials. The information in the on-line form will be automatically routed to the appropriate internal approvers for review and endorsement.

Access to the MRA system follows the University of Toronto Principal Investigator (PI) detailed eligibility requirements table, below.

Tenure Stream Faculty

Tenure stream faculty are eligible to serve as PIs and have access to MRA upon appointment.

Professoriate Non Tenure Stream Faculty

Professoriate non tenure stream faculty are eligible to serve as PIs and have access to MRA upon appointment. In the case of part-time or CLTA applicants, it is important that the unit head consider the appointment period, potential appointment renewals, and the potential grant end date before approving the application on MRA.

Teaching Stream Faculty

All teaching stream faculty are eligible to serve as PIs and have access to MRA upon appointment.

Status Only (Professorial rank)

Faculty with a professorial rank and a status only appointment at U of T (e.g., scientist paid by an affiliated hospital) are eligible, however, the funding application should be submitted through the primary appointment at the affiliated institution in accordance with the affiliation agreement, unless the sponsor does not permit the affiliated institution to hold the funding.

A status only faculty member intending to apply for research support through the University must submit a request for MRA access to raise@utoronto.ca at least 2 days in advance of submission to have an account created. The request must include the following information:

- Name of the faculty member
- Name of U of T unit in which the faculty member holds their primary academic appointment
- U of T personnel number OR U of T email address of the faculty member

Librarians

Librarians at all ranks are eligible to serve as PIs and have access to MRA upon appointment.

Emeritus Faculty Members

Emeritus Faculty members are eligible with the authorization of their unit head. The Chair/Director or Dean (non-departmentalized faculties) of the unit through which the emeritus faculty member intends to apply for research support must submit a request for MRA access to raise@utoronto.ca at least 2 days in advance of submission to have the MRA account created. The request must include the following information:

- Name of the emeritus faculty member
- Personnel number OR U of T email address of the emeritus faculty member
- Unit name through which the faculty member holds the emeritus appointment
- Confirmation of Unit Head support for the request

Clinical Faculty

Clinical faculty appointed under the Policy for Clinical Faculty or individuals who are employed at an affiliated institution (such as an affiliated teaching hospital) and hold a corresponding unpaid appointment at the University are eligible (apart from Clinical Adjuncts), however, the funding application should be submitted through the primary appointment at the affiliated institution in accordance with the affiliation agreement, unless the sponsor does not permit the affiliated institution to hold the funding.

A clinical faculty member intending to apply for research support through the University must submit a request for MRA access to raise@utoronto.ca at least 2 days in advance of submission to have an account created. The request must include the following information:

- Name of the faculty member
